“ I have prayed for you every day since your journey began. You never knew me, but through your mother, I have grown very close to you. I believe God has his purposes in his own time. You fought so hard to live and your family fought to help you. Your time to be with Jesus is now here. I know He has answered my prayers for healing with Him in Heaven. I also know that you now feel all the love so many of us have had for you even though you never knew us. Be happy sweet Aiden! I look forward to meeting and hugging you in Heaven!
