“ I learned everything from my mom. If I ever had a question about anything, she was always the first one I'd call. I couldn't figure out if her 30 cup coffee maker needed a filter. I had found it in a closet to prepare coffee for visitors after her service. I walked in the living room looking for her so I could ask and realized she was gone. I'm sure I'll have many more moments like these. I miss her with every breath. Until we meet again, I'll be loving you, love me.

“ She told us we could only have one zebra cake even though there are two in a pack, always take off your shoes in the house and always make the beds. Say your prayers every night. Chew your food 20 times before you swallow. But most importantly don't forget that she loves you. Fly high Memmaw.

“ Francis was one of the greatest friends I ever have had. She showed compassion to me when I needed it so much. She helped me through some of the most difficult times in my life. Although as we grew older we didn't see each other much, I always held her in my heart (she and Charles both) and when I would see Linda or David or others we both knew, I always wanted them to know what a wonderful person she was. I was privileged to visit her just a few months ago and we had such a good visit. There is no way to fill the void left in our hearts by her passing, but God will give us peace knowing she is resting in heaven with him. I love you dear friend and thank you for all you did for me all those years ago. It will never be forgotten. Treva Williams Welch

Aunt Treva, I have wonderful childhood memories of visiting with all of you in the summer. Momma talked about you many times and loved you very much. Betty Sue Ford

“ How do you share a memory when you have to many to share? My memmaw was a wonderful wife, mother, grandmother, great grandmother and friend. She loved to shop, get her hair done, cook, clean and boss us around. I remember that she alwayed listened with her whole heart and gave the best advice. She believed in God and the power of prayer. She was my grandpa's soul mate. They experienced a loved that only few will ever know. She was definitely his princess. Despite memmaw always making us clean, take off our shoes, closing the kitchen (that was my favorite thing that I sometimes use with my kids), and fussing at all of the kids for slamming the screen door; we all knew that she loved each and everyone of us unconditionally. I always knew I was safe and loved despite my many flaws and that I could always go home. I also knew she was going to tell me what was exactly on her mind. I am so glad I was able to spend some time with you before you were called home. Until we see each other again rest in peace! I love you! Hanna Leigh
