“ Before I retired from Northwestern State University, Bobbie and I worked together at the NSU-Catahoula Center. She was so great to work with--personable, efficient, dependable, conscientious, and she cared for the students. We became good friends, and I really enjoyed her as a co-worker and a great friend. She made my job much easier and enjoyable. There are people in and out of our lives, and ever so often a special person comes along--like Bobbie.

After I retired, I would call her periodically to say hello and check on her. The last time I talked to her she was going to the hospital to have a hip replacement. I told her I would call her when she got home, but my husband had surgery, and time passed quickly. She was on my mind a few days before I got the call of her death. I am so sorry I didn't call, but I know that she knew I cared about her. I will certainly remember her always.

I wanted to tell the family these things in person, but I felt the day of the funeral was overwhelming, and I decided to put it in writing. The funeral was nice, and the pictures were wonderful. The picture with the black dress was beautiful. My thoughts and prayers go out to all of you.
