“ Its been 5 years and I still miss him as much today as I did back then. Maybe even a little more. There is not a day that goes by that I dont think of him and miss him. He was more than my cousin....he was my best friend. I love you dewayne.

“ I have came on here for the past three days to just see pictures... The memories I have are all that keep playing in my head... Henry was a true Gentleman in every aspect, a great daddy to his babies, he loved them more than anything on earth... one of the best friends I have ever had and someone that anyone could trust... I feel so lucky that I got to spend the time I did with him, I'll never forget Boo and I draggin him around with us making him dance till he passed out, lol.. He was so much fun to be around, never had anything bad to say... He was truly golden, his smile still brightens my day... I can still hear him say " Luv u cuz..." in only the way he said it... I can still see him strut that Lil Wayne strut... Those are memories that will never leave me, and I can just try to hold onto them until I see him again. He holds a very big part of mine and everyone else's heart that knew him, He is forever missed, his family forever loved...

“ I am at a loss for words. Nothing can be said to take away this pain that anyone who knew lil wayne is feeling right now. Eventually the pain will be a little easier but it will never go away. But the thing that we will always have in our hearts is the love that he brought into our lives. I know for me personally he brought so much love, and happiness. He was a wonderful cousin, friend, son and brother, but most of all he was a wonderful father. He loved his kids with all his heart and soul. So to Destiny and Heath, no matter where life takes you always remember your daddy loved you two very much.

“ Dear Kathy and family, I want to let you know that you are in our heart's and prayer's. There is no way that I can ease your pain, but if there was I would sure do it for you and your family, But I do know someone who can, and that person is Jesus. I wish I could be there for you and Brenda, but please know that I am there in Spirit, and prayer. Please take care and God Bless you all so very much in this time of sorrow.
