“ Many years ago, Jarrett & Nathan were just young boys and a thunder storm blew in- as usual, the electricity on Llanada Lane was the first to go. Carmon fetched the boys and after he storm passed we all had a wonderful time in the yard with flash lights trying to trace constellations in the stars. We later bought Jarrett a flash light of his very on.

Jarrett had beautiful LONG fingers and I always told him he would make a good surgeon - but he said all he needed was hands big enough to hold Carson - He would say, "Don't he look just like me, Ms. Sue?".

Jarrett was keeping Carson one day and was suffering a sinus headache. He called me and said he needed to take a sinus pill and asked if I would take care of Carson until he could awaken - of course - Carson & I had a wonderful time playing on a quilt on the floor - me trying to blow spit bubbles and making funny noises to make him laugh - he was such a joy!!!

We share in your sorrow, but remember, God knows best ALWAYS!!! HE never makes a mistake, thats our job.
