“ My best memories of Joan is of her teaching me how to count to ten in Spanish. Also “cuss” words that I still remember today. We rode horses and swam. Also at her moms table I learned to eat capers on my scrambled eggs plus raw oysters out of the sack on the banks of Lake St John. We would go to MrsEvans for the week end and run the commissary .We slept under llama skin rugs and dug arrow heads in the turn rows. I saw my first record player at her house. It had a sticker of a dog and a gramophone on it. We danced in the pilgrimage and ate at Stanton Hall. We severed as little hostesses at a home for a friend of her Moms. Joan was a talented lovely lady with kindness and a true heart. She always saw good in people. Joan is always a wonderful generous part of my memories
