“ I am in complete shock, finding out about Nick just today. I met Nick while doing animal rescue in New Orleans, when he rode along with my husband and me through the Katrina devastation, rescuing and feeding the animals. I can genuinely say that Nick is one of the sweetest, nicest and kindest guys I've ever met. Nick and I kept in contact over the years by very occasional emails, one occasion after the sudden death of my husband 2 years ago. He was quick to let me know when he was engaged, and ecstatic over the birth of his 1st child, then his 2nd. I remember Nick rescuing a very frightened dog, having to climb a fence and squeeze through brush, but he would not give up. A photo of him with us and the dog still hangs on the wall in my office, a video of that rescue is still on YouTube. I am still so shocked, and so very saddened over the loss of yet another really great person, with a really big heart. Such a sweet guy, who loved his family so much.

“ My thoughts and prayers go out to you and your family during such a difficult time. Nick was such a delight and will truly be missed. I had the pleasure of meeting and working with Nick regarding his career in healthcare. Nick was someone that you connected with from the first time you met him and I am glad I had the opportunity to do so.

May peace and comfort be with you today and always.
